

DIRECTOR

Up to £35,000 p.a. (depending on experience)

Suffolk Preservation Society (a county branch of the Campaign to Protect Rural England) is Suffolk's leading environmental charity. The Society is based at Little Hall, a Grade II* Listed building, in historic Lavenham.

We are looking for a Director to help us to deliver our important work in the county and to take the Society forward by developing its reputation and status.

Candidates should be totally committed to the aims of the Society, diplomatic, flexible and tactically astute. They should, ideally, be a Chartered Town Planner and have detailed knowledge of all aspects of the planning system, particularly Development Control and Planning Policy work at all levels. An interest in historic buildings would be an advantage.

The successful applicant is likely to have at least 10 years' work experience with local communities and campaign groups.

This is a unique opportunity to work in an outstanding environment helping to shape the future character of Suffolk.

Closing date for applications: 5 June 2009

It is envisaged that interviews will be held before the end of July
